History

The Marco Island Yacht Club, with roots as a 1960s sailing club, was established in its current form in 2001 when members purchased the facility built by developer Jack Antaramian. Following the destruction of an earlier wooden clubhouse in the 1980s, the present clubhouse was completed in 1997. In 2001, the club was sold to a consortium of boaters, forming the current Marco Island Yacht Club. In 2024, the club undertook a major transformation of the clubhouse, keeping the Marco Island Yacht Club at the forefront of world class yachting and social venues.
